

MANY HURT IN RIOTS AT LARKIN MEETING

When Dublin Strike Leader Appeared at London Hall There Was Fierce Fighting.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The first appearance as an orator in London of James Larkin, head of the Transport Workers' Union of Dublin, or "King Larkin," as he is now dubbed by his adherents, led to wild scenes of disorder at Albert Hall last night, where several thousands had gathered to hear him.

A large body of students from the colleges connected with London University, made an organized attempt to upset the meeting, and fierce rioting both outside and inside the hall occurred. A large force of police was requisitioned and free fights occurred.

Many persons were injured before the meeting was able to proceed, for the students successfully stormed the entrance and gained admission to the floor of the hall. There further fighting took place, and sticks and umbrellas were freely used.

Fireworks were let off and, for a time, there was danger of a panic. The orator continued playing, however, and the audience began singing Socialist songs, to which the students responded by singing "God Save the King" and "Rule Britannia."

When order was partially restored Larkin went on with his speech, which was mainly devoted to a denunciation of the Government in connection with the Dublin strike.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medical treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid, in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of liquid magnesia, a simple ant-acid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little liquid magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.—Adv.

The Vogue of VELVETEEN for Women's TAILORED Suits

Rich-hued velvet fabrics are effectively combined with fur in the season's most elaborate Suits, many of which are perfect copies of the models of leading Paris couturiers.

Rose colored chifon plush in softly glowing shade is employed for a Suit—copied from a "Callot" model—a waistcoat bodice of white chifon velvet, rich with Persian silk and ruby bead embroideries, is cleverly featured, and bands of blended squirrel trim the draped collar of white chenille. This Suit—now $69.75, was formerly $150.00.

"Athens Blue" broadcloth makes the short draped coat of a Suit—copied from a "Prenet" model—and edged with bands of dark skunk fur. In the draped skirt of black charmeuse, a panel of the blue velvet is smartly introduced. Formerly $160.00, this Suit is now $129.00.

Models advertised below in sizes 34 to 44.

Velvet Suits Fur Trimmed, $34.75

Copies from a new Cheruit model, the Suit (illustrated) may be had in taupe, wine, green or violet.

Collar and cuffs of black caracul or cone fur trim the jaunty coat and the skirt features the double tunic effect so fashionable.

Velvet Suits, Caracul Cloth Trimmed, $32.75

Copied from a Drecoll model, these Suits, in navy blue or black, have broadtail cloth collar and cuffs, and covered buckles finishing the Empire back of the smart coat. The Skirt's double draped tunics are decidedly new and very modish.

Velvet Suits, Cutaway Model, $26.75

In rich shades of hunter's green, seal brown, navy and black—Suits with three button cut-away coat short in front and long at back. Shawl tunic skirt of graceful style. A practical Suit—very specially priced.
